883POLICE

WHERE THE BRAND STARTED

The 883 Police brand was born in Italy in 1995. Synonymous with style and quality Italy is globally known for its great textile traditions and is universally recognised as an icon of excellence in denim manufacturing.

At 883 Police we have over 200 years combined experience and expertise in denim evolution. This has enabled the brand to be at the forefront of denim innovation and therefore we have been responsible for many of the washing techniques, finishes and textures that have entered the market over the last 3 decades.

In the constantly evolving world of denim and fashion 883 Polices philosophy is to continually design and develop exceptional innovations in denim, push the boundaries of our creative edge and interpret upcoming trends resulting in creative visions coming to life. 883 Police understand that to create the perfect pair of jeans it takes the perfect balance of expertise and skill with quality and uniqueness woven into each fabric.

Italian heritage and styling intertwined with classic Americana and elements of Jack Kerouac's seminal beat novel "on the Road also encapsulates the essence of the brand. Now our collections are infused with a bold modern attitude, denim intelligence and the spirit of youth and freedom.

Premium designs, fits and washes incorporating contemporary elements give the brand its unique look making it instantly recognisable.
