CERTIFICATIONS

A demonstration of our unwavering commitment to environmental sustainability, occupational health and safety, responsible sourcing, ethical business practices, and recycled content integrity.

The FSC certification, which stands for Forest Stewardship Council certification, signifies that the wood or paper products have been sourced from forests that are managed in a responsible and sustainable manner.

The Global Recycling Standard (GRS) certificate is a globally recognized certification system for recycled products. It verifies that the recycled content in a product has been sourced, processed, and manufactured in an environmentally and socially responsible manner.

A Sedex 2-Pillar Audit, part of the SMETA methodology, assesses a company's compliance with labor standards and health and safety practices. It evaluates areas like worker treatment, safety conditions, and ethical business practices in the supply chain. The audit demonstrates a company's commitment to maintaining ethical standards in our operations.

ISO 14001 certification is a globally recognized standard that provides a framework for companies to manage their environmental responsibilities and impacts.

ISO 45001 certification is a globally recognized standard for occupational health and safety management. It provides a framework for companies to manage and reduce risks related to occupational health and safety, and to improve the overall well-being of their workers.

OUR COLLECTION

Unikia Concepts: Affordable Sustainability, Everyday Innovation

BIOHUSK TIMBER: CRAFTED FROM WASTE, BUILT FOR IMPACT

BioHusk Timber is an innovative, sustainable alternative to traditional wood, crafted with care and purpose. Made from 96% upcycled agricultural waste (rice husk & wheat straw) and 4% resins, this product saves precious resources and protects the environment.

Every square foot of this material:

Saves Water: Traditional wood needs 3.8 liters per sq. ft.; BioHusk uses none.

Cuts Carbon Emissions: Prevents 6 lbs of CO2 per sq. ft. by repurposing agricultural waste.

Preserves Forests: Built from waste, not trees — zero deforestation.

Keeps Air Clean: E1-grade, formaldehyde-free, with no toxic emissions.

Supports Farmers: Converts agricultural byproducts into a valuable income source.

By choosing BioHusk Timber, you're not just buying a product — you're making a statement for sustainability and innovation. Together, we're building a greener, smarter future. Thank you for being part of this movement.
